Customer Reviews

I purchased the entire series for my son who HATES reading and therefore struggles with it. This series of books gave me a chance to not only provide my son with a series of books that interest him but the main character looks like him. Public schools do not offer materials for students of color in mind.

My son loved it! He devoured the entire series. He really identified with the characters and the real life situations. As a Teacher, I am overjoyed that Mr. Stoudemire used his other gifts and talent to inspire young black boys. Reading about characters that look like you with similar life experiences will hook children every time. Can't wait for books 6-10.

I thought this book was amazing. I really think the readers got to see how smart and kind Amare really is. He set up the whole tournament, contributed in it, did good in school, and thanked us for reading his books.

Thank you Amar'e Stoudemire for writing this series of books. My son was completely captivated by this series and has read every book. Please write more. We have enjoyed reading this series together. This book is the last in the series and was both entertaining and captivating.
